

My Beloved Kak Ina,

As I open my laptop, tears blur my vision, knowing that this letter is the first and maybe the last time I express my feelings in this typing words.

Our journey together has been nothing short of extraordinary, and the bond we share transcends mere friendship. You are my sister by heart, and I cannot go through a life without you in it. First and foremost, I want to apologize from the depths of my soul.

I am sorry for any pain, hurt, or misunderstanding I may have caused you along the way. Our paths have not always been smooth, and I am aware of my flaws and imperfections. Please know that my intentions were never to hurt you, and I deeply regret any moment that brought sorrow to your heart.

With sincerity, I also want to thank you for everything you've brought into my life. Your unwavering love, support, and understanding have been the pillars that held me up when I felt like crumbling. You've been a constant source of strength and comfort, and I am forever indebted to you for being there during my darkest hours. Our shared memories, the laughter and tears we've exchanged, are treasures I will forever cherish.

You've taught me the true essence of forgiveness, compassion, and unconditional love. Your presence in my life has been a blessing beyond words, and I am grateful for every moment we've spent together.

As I pen these final words, I want you to know that I love you with all my heart. You hold a special place in my soul, and distance or circumstances will never change that. You are etched into the very fabric of who I am, and you will always be a part of me.

While this may be the last time I express my feelings in a letter, please know that my love for you will endure beyond time and space. You are a beautiful soul, and I am honoured to have shared this chapter of life with you.

Thank you for being the sister I never had and for making my life richer in countless ways. May your path ahead be filled with joy, love, and fulfillment.

With all the love in my heart, Nisrin.
